London, 15th.

Parliament opened to-day. Queen's Speech reports cordial foreign relations, and that she will continue to submit to foreign powers whatever measures may appear the best for re-organising Egypt. As for Ireland, constant vigilance and energy are required there, and neither will be spared to restore tranquillity to the public mind and restore order.

Paris, 15th.

The Chamber of Deputies adopted the Committee's report to-day and threw out the Waddington amendment, voting instead of it a new Bill, modifying considerably that voted, and authorising Government to expel "dangerous Princes" from French territory. The Bill will be sent to the Senate to-morrow and probably passed, which will terminate the Ministerial crisis, not yet over.

PLENTY.

The present season is one of the most superabundant plenty ever known in this country. Mutton is so cheap in the market that housekeepers can buy an entire 'capon' for 20 m/c, which will supply a family with meat for three days, three meals a day The poor humble families in town can, for three paper dollars a day, buy enough beef to supply two meals a day of 'puchero.' Potatoes are selling in the Boca cheaper than in Ireland, and can be bought at 3 m/c per ar. Grapes equal to the best grown in the Vosges, Charente, Loire Inferieure, Vendee and Marne, are to be had at every market in town for one paper dollar per lb., or 'por mayor' 20 m/c per arrob. Pumpkins are so large and abundant that their most convenient mode of sale is by the wheelbarrow full, and a useful English quintero-resident says that you can buy pumpkins enough for 10 m/c to fatten a four months'pig for the market. Melons that would in season fetch in London 2s 6d each, are here difficult of sale at two pence each. As for peaches, they are so extraordinarily plentiful thie season, that 2 m/c per 100 in the Tigre or Boca is considered a high price. Many of the residents of our suburbs feed their milch cows on the peaches picked up every morning. The butter and milk about Flores has a rich melocotonic flavour. Vegetables are so cheap in the market, that one paper dollar a day pays for all that a family can consume. Parsley is given away, and pears are now competing in cheapness with the peaches and grapes. Poultry, which in former years ruled so dear, has tumbled greatly in price, owing to the great number of Italian families living in quintas and yards, who attend to the raising of ducks, hens, turkeys, etc, and we learn from the hen-men who pass into town daily on the Flores Road, that now it hardly pays to buy poultry out in the camp, so abundant is the supply in town. Wheat threatens this year to be even cheaper than maize; and if we rise from the consideration of these minor articles of market consumption to a higher scale and scan the estancias, we find that not since the fall of Rosas has there been such a year as the present for fat 'novillos.' Modern philosophers have arrived at the conclusion that cheap food in a country means less crime and increased marriages. Accepting this doctrine, we shall look forward anxiously to Dr. Coni's useful social statistics, which instruct us in everything about wedlock, births, etc.

We have often, very often, advanced the theory in these columns that in no other country under the sun are the people better fed and better clothed than here. Not only do the poorest of the poor in this country eat meat twice a day, but also they take wine at every meal. Nor does it seem probable that any sudden increase of immigration will materially affect the price of food in this country, since we have beef and mutton enough in the country to feed a nation of fifty millions of people on meat meals three times a day. Fast as the population increases, the cows and sheep outside on the new camps increase still faster. One hundred millions of sheep and 14 millions of cows is a greater live stock than any other country on the face of the Globe boasts of. The truth is, the people in the Plate do not know how rich or well off they are. What are luxuries in many parts of Europe and exclusively reserved for the fastitidious tastes of the rich, we have here kicking about on all sides. Millions of poor people in Europe never eat meat more than say once a week, if even so often; here we have the humblest "changador" in our streets with his meat meals, with wine, twice a day. The poorer classes in England, Ireland and Scotland never in their lives eat a peach; here we even feed our milch cows on them, they are so abundant. Grapes, the luscious luxury of the Epicurean European, reared to perfection in costly glass houses that cost a man at home more to bring perfection than a cow, or horse, or a peasant's family, are with us at this time of the year the staple food of the poor. There is no other land of Canaan in the world to-day to beat the Plate.

After all our triumphs in science, our conquests of civilization, our victories of commerce, arts, education, etc., the world "moves on its belly," and, disguise it as we may, the food of man is the greatest of all the world's staples. Wherever man is fed best, he lives best, and that is the best country. In no part of the habitable globe are the humblest classes so well off as in the Plate. Buenos Aires is the paradise of the Proletariat. The climate, soil and water of the Plate are favorable to man and his food, and the present season is one of such unexampled plenty, that it is to be deplored that much of our fruit will be lost, for the want of more months to eat or handicraft to preserve it.

The Mails.

London, January 20.

It is stated by some of the Paris papers that a Legitimist conspiracy has been discovered in France, the object of which is to overthrow the Republic, even by force of arms. Our Paris Correspondent says it is perfectly true that Colonel Charette, aided by M. Baudry d'Asson and others, has organized thirty-two legions in Western France, and has made a commencement of arming them. Six hundred horses have been purchased as a nucleus for the insurgent cavalry. The conspirators are said to have fifteen millions of francs in a London bank. Our Correspondent says that this information has been obtained by a Government inquiry.

We learn from Lyons that the trial of Prince Krapotkine and the other prisoners was concluded yesterday. The Prince was sentenced to five years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of 2,000 francs. He is, moreover, to be placed under police supervision for ten years, and to be deprived of civil rights for five years. Sentence was also passed on the other prisoners. At the conclusion of the proceedings a great tumult occurred and the court was cleared.

Our Correspondent in Berlin says that the preparations for the silver wedding of the Crown Prince and Princess of Germany are advancing rapidly, and that visitors from all parts of Europe arrive daily.

A telegram from our Correspondent at the Hague states that an explosion occurred yesterday morning at a powder-mill at Muiden, near Amsterdam. In the former place the roofs of the houses were carried away and the windows blown out. The report of the explosion was heard in Amsterdam, and some windows were broken there. Twelve persons are believed to have been killed. The cause of the catastrophe is not known.

Yesterday the Cape Parliament was opened by Sir Hercules Robinson for an extraordinary session to discuss the Basuto question. Sir Hercules Robinson in his speech said that in consequence of the altered state of affairs in Basutoland the Ministers had come to the conclusion that the interests of the country would best be served by abstaining from intervention in internal affairs, retaining, however, the control of external affairs.

The Gazette contains the official notification of the vacancy in the Archiepiscopal See of Canterbury and her Majesty's recommendation to the Dean and Chapter to elect the Bishop of Truro.

The Speaker of the House of Commons will issue a new writ for East Lothian on Thursday next, for filling the vacancy caused by the succession of Lord Elcho to the Earldom of Wemyss.

The Marquis of Hartington, addressing his constituents at Bacup last night, said that, notwithstanding many adverse circumstances with which they had had to contend, the strength of the Government was yet unshaken, and that was due to the unbroken trust which the country had in the absolute honesty, good faith, and principles of the men by whom government had been undertaken. He advised the Conservatives to consider what their policy was to be: whether they intended to give a blind and hopeless, but desperate, resistance to advance and progress, or whether they intended to build the future of their party on that foundation of Tory Democracy and Imperialism which was laid by Lord Beaconsfield, but which none of his successors seemed to know how so skilfully to manipulate. Referring to Ireland, the noble marquis said they could well understand that he approached the question with aversion, because a loved relative had died in endeavouring to save that unfortunate country. Although Ireland's population was only five out of 35 millions, the government of it presented problems by the side of which all others we had to contend against in the three kingdoms sank into insignificance. Therefore it was of the utmost importance in dealing with them that party considerations should be excluded.

Last evening Mr. Herbert Gladstone and Mr John Barran, the Liberal members for Leeds, addressed a crowded meeting of their constituents. Mr Gladstone said that the Government was stronger now than when it went into office, and it was amusing to see the efforts put forth by Tory orators to prove that such was not the case. As to the state of Ireland he compared the number of outrages in the different months of 1882 with those of 1881, to prove that there had been a gradual diminution of outrages since March last year, and that there had been a very marked improvement in the condition of the country.

In the course of a speech to the East Sussex branch of the Farmers' Alliance at Tunbridge Wells yesterday, Mr. James Howard, M.P., drew particular attention to the excellent results he had witnessed on farms belonging to Lord Tollemache, who gave his tenants 20 years' leases, with compensation for unexhausted improvements. Mr Bolton, at the same meeting, dwelt upon the injustice done to hop and fruit growers and market gardeners by the imposition of extraordinary tithe.

At yesterday's meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Works a deputation attended from an association formed to organize an opposition to tramway schemes proposed for the West-end of the metropolis, and after some debate the subject was referred to the Works and General Purposes Committee.

Mr. James McMaster, in presiding at the half-yearly meeting of the Alliance Bank, pointed out that the net earnings of the whole year, after paying all expenses and providing for every contingency, amounted to 72,600*l.*, which was equal to a fraction over 9 per cent. on the paid-up capital. Of that amount 7 per cent was appropriated to the payment of dividends, and about 2 per cent. was added to the reserve fund, which now amounted to 220,000*l.*, while on that occasion over 7,000*l.* was carried to the new account.

The stock markets yesterday were very dull upon the flatness at Paris, and prices in the speculative department declined from ¼ to 1¼ per cent. Spanish Four per Cents. were largely sold, and receded 1¼ per cent. Great Eastern Railway stock rose ⅝ upon the announcement of a dividend at the rate of 3½ per cent., but the price left off under the best point. Mexican Ordinary fell 1¼. Consols closed at 101½ to ⅝ for money, and 101 11-16-13-16 for the account. 22,000*l.* in gold was sent into the Bank from abroad.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A POSTSCRIPT.

Sunday, Jan. 14, 1883.

All the news of the past week is already on its way down the Channel, in Lamport and Holt's steamer from Liverpool, which, it is presumed, as she gets forty-eight hours' start, will anchor in the yellow waters of the "Outer Roads" before the Royal Mail, leaving to-morrow. By the former conveyance I sent you a full report of the meeting of Uruguayan bondholders. Should the Royal Mail arrive first, you will find a report in the Times. The result of the meeting was the refusal of the Uruguay Government's offer of 2½ per cent. and ½ per cent. sinking fund, and a proposal, on the part of the bondholders, to take 3 per cent., leaving the Government the option of redeeming their debt themselves, by purchasing the bonds, instead of paying the bondholders out of their own money, in the shape of a sinking fund.

You will see by the papers, and perhaps by telegram, that the second act of the Egyptian question is already opened. The rupture of negotiations between France and England has been quickly followed by the resignation of Sir Auckland Colvin, the British Controller, and the virtual abolition of the dual Control, which will be formally suppressed by a Khedival decree in a few days.

Lord Granville has, through Mr. Wyndham at Constantinople, presented to the Porte a note, a copy of which will be sent to all the Powers interested, detailing the scheme the British Government has devised for the future administration of Egypt. The full text of the note has not yet been published, but the scheme is said to be very complete, and ostensibly provides for the autonomy of the Egyptian people—the withdrawal of the British troops, the sovereign rights of the Sultan, the interests of neutral Powers and all commercial interests. The note at once silences all suspicions of annexation on the part of Great Britain—that is to say, immediate annexation. With the exception of the abolition of the joint control and the probable substitution of a British Counsellor attached to the Court of the Khedive, and who will act in the interest of all nations, it may be said that the scheme of Her Majesty's Government, as far as it is made public, is an honest attempt to verify Mr. Gladstone's frequent asseverations in favour of a return to the "status quo ante Arabi," and to act as loyally towards France and other countries as the peculiar circumstances, and the rightful claims of England to precedence in regard to her position as an Indian Power and her recent sacrifices, would warrant.

The French press—or that part of it which represents the opinions of the late M. Gambetta—is not satisfied with the note, or with its presentation, in the first instance, to the Porte, as if England, failing a European mandate, was placing herself under the ægis of the Turk as a convenient stalking-horse. The French peasantry and people do not seem to care about Egypt, and M. Grévy, who has got rid of an incubus, may be able to impose his own foreign policy—whatever it may be—on the French Assembly, whilst parties are in course of reconstruction after the removal of its central figure, around whom so many vigorous fractions of the Republican party rallied. But, in any case, the difficulties of the Egyptian Government will be immense. Already the "European element" in Alexandria is growling for its five millions indemnification for losses in trade and property, and, is particularly irate at the prospect of the Sultan having any share in future arrangements. It also asks, with fatal truth, if Egypt could not be governed by the joint control of two great Powers in nominal accord, how can it be governed when there is no accord between them, and perhaps positive antagonism? And if Egypt is to govern herself—"stew in her own juice"—what will that end in? And if England is to actively interfere as sole "Counsellor, or Controller, will not that end in one of two things—war or annexation—or perhaps in both?

It is expected that before very long Count Andrassy will replace Count Kalnoky as Minister of Foreign Affairs in Vienna, and that the latter may succeed the late Count Wimpffen in Paris. As you know, Count Andrassy is a firm supporter of the Austro-German alliance. Everything leans towards the assimilation of the European policy of the Cabinet of London to that of Prince Bismarck, and, I must venture to add, that the fact has a strong influence on our own domestic policy which is likely, and, from the tenor of Sir Henry James's recent speech, I should say very likely, to favour the views of the moderate or Whig section of the Government rather than that of the Radicals, and even to the extent of detaching Sir Charles Dilke from his old associates, who do not approve his foreign policy.

Very soon after the elevation of Sir Charles Dilke to the rank of a Cabinet Minister, and after he had gone through—and, above all, Her Majesty the Queen had gone through—the ceremony of his "kissing hands," the Sovereign dismissed her Mistress of the Robes, the Duchess of Bedford, whose position at Court has been for a long time past unpleasant. Her Majesty is Mistress in her own house, and is at liberty to replace a Russell by a Kerr—an old Scotchwoman, the Duchess of Roxburghe—who has for many years been attached to the Queen's household, and who will look after the robes and the lace and will mind her p's and q's.

Mr. Gladstone, so far, has not followed the example of Sir Robert Peel and made a political question of the Queen's household arrangements, but the dismissal of the Duchess of Bedford is, nevertheless, looked upon as a slight to the Liberal party, or a certain section of it, represented no longer by the Reform Club, but by the Devonshire or the National. Lord Wolverton has just left the Reform.

The Attorney-General, acting for Mr. Chamberlain and the "young Chamberlains," has got his "rule" in the Law Courts against the Times and Observer. Never was there a more stupid case than this of Mr. Chamberlain's—from a political point of view. Many good Liberals of a certain social position would have voted for Mr. Chamberlain in the House, caring little and knowing less about the political tendencies of their votes. But such men know and care a great deal about the social rules of clubs; and if the county franchise or that sort of thing means dining cheek by jowl with the next of kin of Radical Ministers in esse or posse, then say they, we will go over to the Tories, who, as the new Lord Elcho says, are not to be classed with the Tories of 1832. His youthful lordship seems to look upon it as a libel and slander on the part of his antagonist in Haddingtonshire to have classified him with such fossils. His father, the present Earl, was until lately a good Liberal, and, doubtless, Lord Elcho is the same in all but the name.

In Dublin the "Castle," the police and the Marines are continuing a series of raids on presumptive conspirators, which, so far, have given very little sport, but they have just netted a batch of about 20, whose names, professions, ages and addresses are published in full, containing many tradesmen of apparent respectability and one town councillor. Their ages seem to average about 30, an important point, because so many of the convicted criminals in Ireland have been mere boys, who, sad to say, have committed assassination out of revenge for acts or insults against relatives, their offences having no direct relation to politics or agrarian discontent. A quite recent case is that of a boy of 19, who thus revenged the dismissal of his father from some mechanical employment. The murder, however, represents the spirit of Boycotism in its most transcendental form in Ireland. Where an Englishman resorts to a blow or 'art a brick, the young Ireland flies to the knife or revolver. At present, that is the saddest feature in the social state of Ireland, whatever may be the proximate or remote causes of that state.

Poor Mr. Davitt, who has been stumping England so far with tolerable success, has just met with a furious reception at Oldham, though not from Englishmen, but from Irish Nationists. He quite lost his usual philosophic bearing and temper.

WHERE "LA PLATA" IS.

When a telegram appeared in the papers a few weeks back announcing that the new capital of the province of Buenos Aires had been located, every one interested in the Argentine country asked "Where is La Plata?" Nobody, however, seemed to know, nor was their ignorance enlightened by reference to any map. We presume the future maps will exhibit "La Plata" the city as well as "La Plata" the river. But where is "La Plata," the new? A recent number of the Buenos Ayres Standard informs us. It is not far from Ensenada. The site is said to be well chosen; and if at present there are not many houses in the place, there is at least a beautiful row of trees. Only one or two houses are built, and being built, but the sanguine reporter of the paper mentioned expects that years will "do wonders." So they may provided circumstances favour the performance, but to build and inhabit a new city merely to carry out an idea of the politician may not prove to be a very easy or taking task. Show us an urgent necessity for the new undertaking, or that it is favoured by great business requirements, and we can believe in its future. But to ordain that a great city shall arise is something in the nature of ordering the course of the tides. What necessity there is for constructing a new city, at no great distance from the city of Buenos Aires, we have never heard, nor can we conceive what good would be done by such an act. Buenos Aires is now the city of the Argentine Republic, and the province of Buenos Aires is the principal and most valuable part of the Argentine country. That city is so thriving that it contains 300,000 inhabitants, and is growing daily. Large sums have been spent in providing it with a comprehensive system of tramways, water works, gas supplies, and other conveniences which a new city could not possibly begin to acquire until it had got together a large population, and, of course a large number of houses for the population to live in. If "La Plata" ever runs alone, and becomes an important place (for which we fancy something more than an edict is required), probably 20 years will elapse before there is traffic enough to support a tramway, or a population that will support water works, gas, etc. These unsupplied wants form one of the inconveniences accompanying the establishment of a new city. We believe a portion, but only a very modest portion, of the proceeds of one of the late loans raised in London is for the purpose of aiding in the building of La Plata, but if the Government of the Province were so unwise as to build many houses in La Plata on the chance of those houses finding tenants the Government would, we believe, have on their hands for years an unprofitable work, unless, indeed, there is some great business necessity for 'La Plata,' of which we have never heard. Even then the establishment of a new city is uphill work, and many years usually elapse before it can be placed on an equality with such as the city of B. Aires, where large amounts of capital judiciously and productively spent have done much in conferring advantages of an important character. For our part, we repeat, we cannot perceive the use in attempting to form a rival city to Buenos Aires. What is wanted in the Argentine country is further consolidation—not separation. Making the city of Buenos Ayres the capital of the Republic was a step in the direction of complete consolidation, but the building of La Platn as the capital of the Province of Buenos Aires, and as a rival to the City of Buenos Aires, if it can ever hope to be such, seems to be in the nature of a separation movement, and is therefore against the spirit of the times. We notice as a somewhat significant fact that on the occasion of the recent inauguration of the new city neither the President nor the Vice-President of the Republic was present, the one excusing himself on the ground of absence from home and the other on the equally common excuse of ill-health. Had these high functionaries deemed the occasion of sufficient importance to demand their countenance surely at least one of them might have managed to be present, and graced the proceedings with his company. As it was they were both away, and the banquet was celebrated, the orations were delivered, the poetical effusions recited, and other 'prefervid' proceedings ran their course, in their absence. "In the midst of all this intellectual and poetical illumination, however (writes the South American Journal), there would seem to have been a deplorable lack of light in its more material relation to matters mundane. For thus writes the veracious reporter of the Standard—"The viands and the wines were good enough, but there was no light until someone brought in a few pounds of tallow candles, which were stuck into empty bottles all round the tables, forming with the swallow tailed and white chokered guests the most outrageously incongruous scene I have ever witnessed." Such was the "inauguration." Hitherto President Roca has not failed to be present on all "great occasions," and his absence on this does not speak much for his appreciation of it. Perchance he does not think much will come of it. Certainly if anything ever does a great deal of time and capital will be required, and in the meantime the city of B. Aires, as the acknowledged capital of the whole country, will continue to grow. It is now so large that it ranks as one of the important cities of the world. Against it La Plata can never hold a candle, unless it be the one that did service at the "banquet."—Herepath.

LATEST FROM IRELAND

THE MISSING HEIRESS

Our Dublin Correspondent telegraphs that during the past week active exertions have been made to obtain evidence that may lead to the discovery of the young woman alleged to be the daughter of an English Baronet, who had been deserted when a mere infant by her parents nearly twenty years ago, at Kingstown. Numbers of persons remember the circumstance of an elegantly-dressed female infant, well muffled up in flannel, being found on the doorsteps of Mr. Thomas Carey, Sussex Parade, Royal Marine-road; also the baptism of the infant and her removal to Rathdown Union Workhouse, Loughlinstown. So far, the object sought for has been traced, but it would appear up to the present no further information has been obtained, notwithstanding that a vigilant search has been made through the old admission books and other records of the workhouse. In this search one entry was found referring exactly to the period when the child had been deserted. It records the admission of a female infant who had been deserted in Kingstown; but, strange to say, there is another entry which states that this infant was taken out of the workhouse two days after her admission by some woman who then resided in Green-street. It is stated that this entry cannot refer to the missing heiress of £10,000 a year and an enormous amount of accumulated money. It is stated that as much as £2,000 is offered for trustworthy information that will lead to the discovery of the lost heiress, whose parents are said to be dead, and it seems that the story of the desertion of her child at Kingstown was told by her mother when on her deathbed a short time since.

A Dublin Correspondent telegraphs that the story of the missing heiress has gained fresh interest by the fact that a letter has been received from Mary Anne Shaw, of Bristol, saying that she had been left on a doorstep in Kingstown, when she was scarcely a month old, and lived in Kingstown till she was 13 years of age. She requests that the particulars reported to the police at the time the child was found on Mr. Carey's steps should be at once forwarded to her, as she is strongly inclined to believe that she is the missing heiress.

NO MORE INDIANS.

Day breaks, and with a savage howl a hurricane sweeps down from the Cordilleras. In a moment the surface of the lake is covered with foaming waves, whilst the shores whiten with the fiercely-driven snow. We are compelled to take shelter in the adjacent forest of pines, cypress, chacal and mountain oaks that everywhere clothe the slopes of the Sierras—mighty monarchs of the forest, such as one thinks grow only in the tropics.

Especially striking are the "Auricaurias, or "pinos," with their strange foliage of thickly-set triangular spikes. Many are of immense size, some 120 feet in height with a trunk of five or six feet in diameter; and their somewhat harsh outline and sombre colouring is softened and lightened by a perfect mantle of silver gray, which on closer inspection proves to be lichens, which in sweeping festoons profusely depend from every branch. Meanwhile we have come across numerous toldos recently abandoned, and in less than half an hour back comes a scout with the news that about half a league ahead there is a numerous body of Indians.

Away we gallop through the fast-falling snow. A sharp fusillade, a shout of anger and defiance, a charge and a cry of victory, and then a headlong flight on the part of the Indians.

On examining the result we find we have captured a "tolderia" of Cacique Naipicha; in our hands remain a "capitanejo," some twenty warriors, and a considerable number of chusma, together with "hacienda" and horses. The remaining Indians have betaken themselves, mostly on foot, to the mountains, where pursuit is impracticable.

Notwithstanding the adverse elements, we soon have a "carne con cuero" smoking before the fire—for now there is no longer need for doing without that essential comfort.

Interrogation of the captives leads to the knowledge that to the south, on the other side of the Sierra Nevada, is another lake, Huachi-Lanquen; and that there are to be found Caciques Tacumun, Mankepal and Nancuchee—that there is a pass over the Sierra, but a very bad one, which has furthermore been blocked by the Indians, who consequently believe themselves secure on that side. The Colonel decides to make the attempt, and with the following dawn we start.

Up we go a narrow pathway, now overhanging a dizzy precipice, now treading a mazy forest, now crossing a rushing stream, cataracts of white foam thundering on either side. More than once our progress is stopped by barricades of rocks and huge trunks of trees purposely placed across the way by the Indians. However, time, patience and a supply of axes clears the path of these obstacles, and we have reached the highest point of the pass, 1720 metres, and now we tread along in single file, our right shoulders and legs brushing against a sheer wall of rock, while the left leg dangles defiantly and unconsciously over a deep and dark abyss. How it was I cannot say, but at this moment I became painfully aware that my feet were intensely cold, and the sole method I could think of to restore the circulation was to dismount and walk for a while. A curious coincidence was that every one, from the Colonel downward, discovered that he too suffered from cold feet, and accordingly adopted my remedy. At the end of the day we emerged from the pass, having occupied some 16 hours for a distance of about three leagues.

We are now on the north coast of the lake, and the Indians are on the south. From the extreme eastern point runs the river Chimechuin; to reach the south side, then, it is evidently necessary to cross this stream (to the west all passage is barred by precipitous mountains). Accordingly, at twelve o'clock the same night we saddled up and marched, reaching the river just after dawn. The passage was rather a serious affair, the water reaching up to a horse's shoulders; it was also very narrow, and the water on either side deep, and a tremendous current. Two Indians, erring a little out of the line, were swept away and drowned, while the rest of us escaped with a thorough ducking—no pleasant thing, seeing the thermometer marked below zero. Still forward we pressed without more delay than just to shift from horses to mules.

Passing along the side of the lake we soon reach a "defiladero." On one side rise precipitous mountains, on the other is a sheer descent into the laguna; its length is more than a league, and in its centre the path is crossed by a rapid torrent. On the far side of this the Indians had raised a really formidable stockade. Had Leonidas and his devoted 300 Spartans possessed such a position at Thermopylæ they might with impunity have defied the myriads of Xerxes. In short, such was its natural strength that half-a-dozen determined men might have held it for ever. But we were fortunate enough to take the Indians by surprise; an interchange of a few shots, and they turned and fled. Now we are in an open valley, pursuing as fast as the ground will allow. Some three leagues further on we reached a second "defiladero." The fugitives are just in front; beyond the highest peaks of the Cordilleras, and on the far side Chile. Once there they may laugh us to scorn.

Forward, forward! No time to saddle and re-saddle. So, abandoning our mules, we leap on our horses "en pelo," and away we go—scrambling, falling, galloping—a race for life and liberty, and over what a course! Sufficient to say, that five horses were killed in passing and eleven in repassing this terrible "defiladero," and these out of a total of fifty.

THE WOOLLEN TRADE REVIEW

The year 1882 cannot be looked back upon without the feeling, so far as the business of the heavy woollen trade is concerned, that it has been of a most unsatisfactory character, especially with respect to the export trade; and if it had not been for the home trade, business would indeed have been bad. At the commencement of the year the trade was in a pretty healthy condition, and there were prospects of a good season. An impulse was given to the production of goods from France, owing to the termination of the 1860 treaty, but it did not continue long. The speech of M. Tirard foreshadowed what would be the ultimate result. The prolongation of the treaty for a short time allayed the fears of the manufacturers, and goods were shipped off weekly in large quantities to that country. In April some firms were in receipt of large orders for shipment for France before the expiration of the treaty. As was feared, the higher tariffs came into operation in May, and had a most prejudicial effect upon the trade. During February orders were being worked for Austria, the Levant, and South America; and a little trade was done with Canada, but of no special charcter. With the arrival of June continental orders began to run out, and were not replaced by others to the same extent. With July the season for shipping was far advanced, and there was a very perceptible diminishment of trade with the Continent—France particularly. A few orders were despatched to South America, Australia, and Greece. The establishment of woollen manufactories by Dewsbury gentlemen in Germany has worked injuriously upon this locality, and curtailed the amount of goods sent there. For the remainder of the season shipping has remained dull. Hopes are being held out that certain portions of the American tariff referring to woollens will be modified and pave the way to further concessions of the present exorbitantly high tariff. Turning to the home trade it may fairly be said that the year opened out favourably and there was a brisk demand for goods of light make such as worsteds, tweeds, meltons, serges, and mantle cloths. In February orders were lodged by London and Manchester merchants, but at prices which were not very remunerative to the manufacturers. At the opening of March the healthy state was maintained, and frequent inquiries were made for presidents, sedans, tweeds, and cheviots, which continued throughout the whole of the month. A revival after the Easter holidays of the heavy woollen industry was naturally expected, but hopes were not realised, there being instead a falling off. Things were rather quiet between Easter and Whitsuntide, but mills continued to work full time, and especially was this the case with those turning out fancy worsted and mantle cloths. Throughout June trade was fairly active, competition was strong and prices kept at a low level. The goods chiefly sought after were presidents, reversible naps, fancy and worsted coatings, ulster, and mantle cloths, one large firm having a large order for the two latter descriptions. A slight improvement occurred in the month of July, but the unfavourable weather in the early part of August caused a sudden relapse. Notwithstanding the general satisfactory results of the harvest there was a lack of confidence expressed in a thorough improvement of trade. These fears were confirmed in September, for reports were pretty general that the first week of that month was the dullest experienced for years. No great improvement could be expected to take place owing to the high rate—5 per cent—of bank interest. Most of the mills yet continued to work full time, but the produce was mainly for stock. The latter part of the month showed a limited demand, except for worsted coatings, which had largely superseded the use of better class pilots and naps.

During October both the London and provincial home trade showed a falling off, and good pilots and naps usually in request at this season of the year were neglected. Stocks were heavier than in the two previous seasons, and hopes of an improved trade vanished. A great strike of weavers at the largest mill in the district against a reduction of wages now occurred, and after lasting four weeks resulted in favour of the employers. Towards the close of October the market was more cheerful, and orders, although not important, were placed which materially reduced the heavy stocks in hand. The open weather militated against a general improvement. The late severe snowstorm had a beneficial effect on the heavy woollen trade, inasmuch as it reduced the stocks of retailers. Stocks were also greatly reduced during the first portion of December, and presidents and other goods of similar make slightly gained in favour. Worsteds, cheviots, and the like continue to be the leading qualities in demand. The army trade throughout the year has been dull, and the recent Egyptian war failed to induce a spurt. A few failures have occurred during the year, but they do not seem to have had a baneful effect upon the trade, not being of so heavy a character as in recent years. It is to be hoped that the cautious operations of the year will make next season's business a more beneficial and prosperous one. In carpets a good business was done at the opening of the year and continued well into spring. The home trade in June was quiet, but shipping opened out well with the exception of the Eastern markets. August, as usual, was quiet, and manufacturers were busily engaged with new patterns. The latter part of the year saw an improvement in trade, new orders having come in, but at a slightly reduced rate, and trade is now moderately good. With regard to the blanket trade, the first quarter of the year was dull, and the season opened out slowly until August arrived, when it brought with it an active demand, causing machinery in some instances to be run overtime. Prices, too, were a little in favour of the producer. The flannel trade has been weak throughout the year, but the chances of competing in Government contracts lead to hopes of an increase of business in the coming year.—Manchester Guardian.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The news by the mail, which, we give in another column, is very interesting. The chief item in it is the discovery of a formidable Legitimist plot in France, to restore His Majesty Henri Cinq. There is no doubt about it, and all the London papers give full details. It was a knowledge of this plot that induced Prince Napoleon to issue his manifesto. Neither Emperor or King is likely to be restored at present; but, if the Republic does not speedily mend its ways at home and abroad, a Restoration will become imperative. It is highly unlikely that the Republic will mend its ways—republics never do—although the Great Republic is just now an exception to this rule, and is veering towards the sweets of Free Trade, having had enough of the bitters of Protection.

We received yesterday another letter from Montevideo in reference to the removal of a private patient from the British Hospital there, to which we referred in a recent issue. As the letter is marked "private" we cannot publish it. It says, however, that "this first complaint in seven years against this model flourishing institution will be found to be unjustified when gone into." We shall be glad if it prove so, and hope the Committee will go into it at once and publish the result, as the British community are anxious to know more about the matter.

We see in the latest Dublin papers that Miss Peel's rejected swain is not content with his farthing damages, and has audaciously applied for a new trial. Mr Justice Lawson said the case reminded him of one that came before him in Cork, in which the lady stated that on their way to the church to be married the gentleman told her that he had not money enough to pay for the honeymoon.—Mr Justice Johnson said this case is worse, for the lady accused the gentleman of not being able to pay for a cab. We forgot to mention the other day that, during the first trial, it came out that Miss P. had such misgivings as to wedding her wooer, that, on one occasion, when he went from London to Dublin to press her to do so, she gave him "£20 and a Kiss" and sent him back to his medical studies. There are worse things in life than "£20 and a Kiss", even when the fair donor refuses to marry the receiver.

The annual Requiem Mass for the repose of the soul of the Rev. Father Fahey will be sung by the Venerable Dean Monseñor Dillon on Tuesday, February 27th, at 10 o'clock, in the Chapel of the Irish Convent, Calle Riobumba.

The Southern Cross of yesterday chastises Mr Sarmiento, in deservedly severe terms, for his outrageous speech to the girls of the Normal School at Montevideo.

General Osborn, the United States Minister here, has arrived in the Nyanza. We cordially welcome him back to the River Plate.

A great many people are now getting themselves and their children re-vaccinated, as small-pox is rather increasing than declining in the city. We strongly recommend all our subscribers to have the simple operation performed.

Another feather in the Boca's cap! Several of the tram lines are to be connected, to facilitate the transport of emigrants from the Boca to the Asilo. This shows that all the emigrant ships are to enter the Boca in future.

The death of Wagner, "the Musician of the Future," has caused regret in high musical circles. He was born in Leipzig on May 22nd, 1813, and educated in Dresden. His love of music was intense from childhood. His first important work, Rienzi, was produced in 1842. In 1848 he marred the position he had attained, by mixing in politics. The King of Bavaria was his great patron. All the world is aware of the great diversity of opinion about his musical theories. We will publish a more ample biography of this great composer to-morrow.

A subscription list for the "Rev. Mr Smith Testimonial Fund" now lies in our office for signature, and we hope to see most of the Scotch, English and Irish names in town and camp attached to it. Never was testimonial better merited.

We are glad to see Mr. John Samson's name amongst the candidates at the approaching Municipal elections. Mr. S. would make a first-rate alderman, and we hope to see him elected.

We sincerely rejoice to hear that Don Mateo Forrester has turned the corner of his serious illness, and is now on the high road to recovery.

The terrible floods in the U. States call attention, all the more as the savans of the Canada Observatory have predicted, for March 11th, the most awful cyclone the world has ever seen, the United States, India, England, and the South of Europe being the points that will feel its force most. The same Observatory predicted accurately the last cyclone in the U. States.

We received yesterday the Message of the Governor of Mendoza, in beautiful buttercup binding. The world at large will be delighted to learn that Mendoza is at peace with the National Government and all her sister provinces. When will provincial Governors abandon this ridiculous aping of the language of Kings and Presidents? It is really too laughable. To-morrow or next day we will refer to the sensible portions of the Message, as we believe Mendoza is the Coming Province.

A lively sensation was created in a second class tavern in Calle Libertad the other night by a well-dressed lunatic taking out a revolver and declaring his intention of turning some of the company into their orginal dust. Fortunately, he was secured before he could carry his benevolent intention into effect.

The trial of the Pyx at the National Mint was concluded on Thursday, in presence of the Committee named by Government. Professor Kyle handled the gold and Mr. Centeno the silver; and the result was that "Argentine coin is declared equal in purity and make to the best in the world." This puts an end to all the rubbish lately published about the quality of the new National coins.

The recent military mutiny in Montevideo has ended in the cashiering and liberation of Lieuts. Castro and Perez and Ensign Cezari.

An Immigrants' Hotel is to be built immediately in Bahia Blanca. This shows where the tide of progress is now turning to. A great meat-preserving firm in Canada is also about to open a branch in the future South American Liverpool.

Some little time ago an American gold-digger's wife sued for a divorce on the ground of cruelty—her husband would not buy her gloves. But the District Court decided that these coverings for the hands were not 'necessaries' for the spouse of a man who habitually fried bacon on a shovel, mended his clothes with old flour sacks, and ate his pork and beans out of the lid of the 'billy' in which he boiled his tea.

Taking up the Glove.—"I am ashamed of the effeminacy of my sex," said a female orator. "Look at your fripperies and superfluities! Why, for instance, do you

ON 'CHANGE.

February 16th, 1883

Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas E	84½
National Bank Shares	105½

Whenever there is an impending turn in the market, whether a fall or a rise is imminent, it is always foreshadowed by a score of rumors which are spread in the hall. The market opened this morning under the influence of many rumors with reference to a complete change in the Board of Directors of the National Bank, on the plea that they do not represent the new shareholders, and to the announced departure of the actual President of the Bank on a mission to Europe. The bulls whispered also that Mr. P. Agote was the candidate for Presidency of the Bank during Mr. Pacheco's absence. It is stated that at the meeting of shareholders a motion will be made for a new election of Directors, which will represent the new and the old shareholders; the market, it must be confessed, views the rumored motion with favor, as there is a general desire to see leading business men figure on the Board. There is a general conviction that there is too much of a speculative tone about the establishment.

The share market ruled very firm during official hours and the tendency of the market looks upwards. Operators seem to expect a turn and the market appears to be on the eve of some change. Operations for cash ruled dull and only 150 shares changed hands at 105 and 105½, closing price. Speculation for the end of the month continues on a limited scale; 900 shares were sold; rates opened at 104½; rose to 105½ and closed at 105½. Operations for the end of March continue brisk; 400 shares were sold ex-dividend at 101¼-⅜ and 114 "disponible" for the same date at 106½ to 107. Operations during official hours embraced 1,564 shares. Although many rumors are floating in the speculative atmosphere there is very little animation at the ring and operations in the stock shew a limited number of operators. The market closed very firm and with rising tendency.

Cedulas ruled active during official hours, and over 130,000 $f. of the stock were sold. Series A opened at 100½, but closed at 100½: A few thousand were sold at these rates. Series E is quoted at 84½ for cash, for the end of the month and for Saturday, about 53,000 $f. sold. Fifteen thousand were sold for the end of April at 85½-⅜, and 45,000 for the end of May at 85½. Several thousand changed hands for the end of June at 86. The bulk of operations is effected for the months of April. May and June at firm rates.

It was rumoured in the market this morning that 84 o/o had been offered for the new Debenture loan, contemplated by the Provincial Government. This Cedula loan of 5 o/o interest and 1 o/o amortization gold is the topic of the market, and although all the details and particulars of same are kept under the strictest reserve, and bear a very hazy coloring in the eyes of the market, there is a general opinion that Mr. Campbell's mission will be successful. The reduction of the minimum rate of the Bank of England points to an improved feeling in the London market and to less problematical efforts to place Argentine papers.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—

Cedulas—
For cash A 4,600 at 100½-½
For cash E 7,000 at 84½
For Feb. 17th E 11,000 at 84½
For Feb. 28th E 25,000 at 84½
For April 30th E 15,000 at 85½-⅝
For March 31st E 45,000 at 85½
For June 30th E 25,000 at 86
Sales, 130,600

National Bank Shares—
For cash 150 at 105-½
For Feb. 28th 900 104½-105-½-¼
For March 31st 400 at 101½-⅔ ex div.
Do 114 at 106½-107 disp.
Sales, 1,564

The entry of large steamers into the Boca is the great topic of the market, and people are at a loss to find out why the Montevidean steamers do not moor alongside the Boca embankment. This new departure would be an immense improvement, as the steamers might be posted to leave at 8 p.m.; this would give people time to dine on shore at ease and would certainly much increase the traffic to the Mount. We hope that the Agents of the Montevidean steamers will take this view of the matter, as they better than anybody are well aware of the immense inconveniences and often dangerous risks of getting on board off the passenger mole. The public calls for departure from the Boca, and the Agents must obey the summons.

In another column we publish an important telegram from Havannah, quoting River Plate jerked beef at 19.

The gold market rules quiet. Small operations are reported at the current rates for cash; there appears to be nothing doing at long dates. The demand for specie in the market is limited to momentary requirements of condors and sterling for produce up rivers.

The National Bank has commenced paying back to the new shareholders the surplus money received for subscription to the new shares.

The proposed business in London, which Mr. Llambi Campbell, the President of the Mortgage Bank, has gone to conclude, will, it is calculated by the brokers, prove a gain ta the Mortgage Bank of thirteen millions fuertes, which will at once explain its great importance. When concluded the Bank will not amortize at one drawing all the Series A, but only about two millions pats. per quarter.

All the Directors of the Provincial Bank subscribed to-day towards the Alvear presentation fund; a list lies at our office, should any of our city merchants wish to subscribe.

The report of Don Cayetano Livi, Public Land Surveyor, upon the Loreto estancia has been published in pamphlet form in London, and come out by the mail. We purpose extracting from it at our leisure.

Exchange rather firmer; many drawers at 49⅜. The National Bank drew on London to-day at 49⅜. Takers, however, hold out for 49½. Some of the private banks have lowered their drawing rate to 49⅜.

The old house of Mr S. Cibils in the Calle Piedras, between Rivadavia and Victoria, and alongside the Scotch Church, has been purchased by Mr Mariano Unzue for 695,000$/c, broker, Mr Pico.

The wool markets continue in a very dull condition. Very large quantities of bad wools are being sent to deposit, and good qualities are becoming daily more scarce. The markets maintain the usual prices and the usual features. Advices from Europe run in the usual melancholy strain.

A colleague confirms the news we published a few days ago with regard to the intentions of the Board of the Provincial Bank in the renewal of bills. The Directors, it appears, are determined to proceed in an inevitable manner, and in the market it is anticipated that the immediate consequence of this new policy will be a sudden supply of real estate for sale. In fact, the Bank will be overhanled, and very many abuses will be removed.

Wheat has been sold as high as 150$/c per fanega by Messrs. Unzue in the Once. This is an extraordinary price for the cereal, and strange to say, all good qualities are fetching very high prices and are in steady demand. We may, nevertheless, expect to see wheat cheaper than maize this season.

Messrs. F. J. Murphy and A. Fraser have started in partnership as brokers in the market. Both gentlemen have wide connections in business circles.

Exchange in Montevideo was done to-day and yesterday at ½ free to the drawer.

It is to be hoped that the Neyanza will enter the Boca, and that the National Government will exempt her from the payment of the usual wharfage duties, as she is a pioneer steamer in the American steam trade with this country. The agents, Messrs. Mohr, Bell and Co., have been most successful in their efforts, and it is to be hoped that this trial trip will be the prelude to a regular service. General Osborne, who settled the Chilian question, is on board the Nyanza, and this, coupled with the entry into the Boca, should induce the Minister to wipe out all dues.

The following sales were reported to-day:—

4,000 salted horse hides from Becker and Costa's at 34 lb at 21 rls.

2,500 salted horse hides from Podesta's of 34 lb at 21 rls.

The Riachuelo's waters are worse than ever. The nuisance is becoming perennial, and the blame is laid on the distillery as usual. People in the Boca are much to be pitied.

The market will be glad to hear than our old friend, Mr Nordenholz, ex-German Consul, is expected in the next German steamer, the Nurnberg. Mr. Nordenholz returns owing to the death of the manager of his splendid estancia in Santa Fe. His family remains in Europe.

Speculation during afterhours ruled dull and very little business was transacted. Shares ruled firm at 105½ for the end of the month. The market closed at 105½ buyers, and 105½ sellers.

The sales at afterhours were:—

Cedulas—
Sellers for end of month at 84½

National Bank Shares—
For Feb. 28th seller at 105½

We clip the following from the last paper received by mail:—

"So far as can be judged from the dividends declared as yet by the London banks, the past half-year has been fairly profitable to bankers but has not shown the improvement which was anticipated compared with the corresponding half of 1881. The London and Westminster Bank declares a dividend at the rate of 18 per cent. per annum on the old capital. The rest is now £1,638,525. The dividend is at the same rate as twelve months ago. The Union Bank of London declares a dividend of 15 per cent. per annum, which is the same rate as was distributed twelve months ago, and it carries forward £21,900. Twelve months ago the sum carried forward was £17,708. It will be seen that there is very little improvement in the twelve months. The Alliance Bank declares a dividend of 7 per cent, per annum, and carries £7,500 to reserve, which is thereby raised to £220,000. It also carries forward £7,000. Twelve months ago the rate of dividend was the same, £5,000 was added to reserve, and £5,531 was carried forward. The increased profits, it will be seen, amount to £3,931. The directors of the National Discount Company recommend a dividend of 13 per cent. per annum, and carry forward £4,579. The dividend a year ago was 12 per cent., and £2,287 were carried forward."

From the Plaza Once de Setiembre we have the following:—

President—Dr. S. Balestra
Dr. Luis O. Basualdo
V. Ibañez
J. Calvo
Dr. U. Balestra
N. Nuttall.

With regard to the proposed purchase of the tramway it was resolved that none would be listened to before the drawing up of an accurate statement of the accounts and condition of the Company. The Board was requested to name a special Committee for the pur

El Miercoles 28 de Febrero
A las 3 en punte de la tarde

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado por orden terminante de su propietario.

Un area de campo situada en el Partido del Azul, a pocas leguas del Pueblo y a una hora de camino de la Estacion del Ferro Carril del Sur y de once a doce horas de la Capital; compuesta de una legua cuadrada mas 939 milesimos de otra.

Estos campos forman parte de la gran Estancia que perteneció al finado General Don Prudencio Ortiz de Rosas y eran reputados como la flor de los campos del Azul, y el lote que ofrecemos lo mejor, pues es cruzado por el arroyo la Corina y allí existe la poblacion del mismo nombre. En prueba de ello es que este campo esta arrendado desde hace 5 años por 80,000$ al año venciendo al contrato el 1 de Abril del corriente año y el actual arrendatario estamos seguros no lo dejara por pesos 100,000.

A mas del arroyo la Corina que atraviesa el campo, tiene dos lagunas mas.

Los pastos en su mayor parte son tiernos y superiores pues estan poblados estos campos hace mas de 35 años.

La venta se hara en uno o dos lotes con la infima base de $500,000 legua cuadrada precio sumamente bajo, pues campos iguales acaban de venderse en Ayacucho por nosotros mismos a $1,200,000 legua.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y condiciones arriba estipuladas, por orden terminante de su dueño.

El area de campo arriba señalada, situada en el Partido Bolivar, conocidos por la Blanca Grande, compuesto de 1 legua de frente por 2 de fondo o sean 2 leguas cuadradas.

El campo es de lo mejor de este partido y esta poblado desde el año 1878.

Los pastos son superiores, como lo atesiguan las haciendas, tanto lanar como vacuna que alli existen.

Linda con los Sres Herrera, Vegas, Cortes, Marechal, García, Olazabal, Tello y Aurelio Prado.

Ademas alli en seguida, estan los Establecimientos de los Sres M Unzue, Salvador N del Carril, Miguel Nazar, Ibarra, Beristayn, Belgrano y otros.

Es uno de los nuevos Partidos mas poblados de poco tiempo a esta parte, lo que demuestra la sobresaliente calidad de sus tierras y pastos.

Dista este campo 1½ de la laguna la Blanca Grande, teniendo otro en el mismo campo, 7 leguas del pueblo San Carlos, 14 de Olavarria y 21 del Azul.

El viage por el Bragado se hace mas rapidamente aun, pues en dia y medio se llega a la estancia y gastando una tercera parte menos.

Las personas que deseen obtener mas datos, pueden ocurrir a nuestra casa Alsina 78.

La venta se hara sin limitacion alguna, por orden que tenemos al efecto y con comodos plazos para el pago.

El Jueves 15 de Marzo
A las 2 p.m.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y sin limitacion de ninguna clase, los mas afamados campos de la Provincia de Santa Fe conocidos por Loreto distantes unicamente 25 leguas de Pergamino, 6 de la colonia Iriondo, 10 de la colonia Alvear (La Teodolina) 13 de la Estacion Tortugas del Ferro Carril Central Argentino, 16 de la Cañada de Gomez. Estacion del mismo Ferro Carril y entre el Ferro Carril de Clark, el proyectado ramal del F. C. del O. desde el Pergamino al Rio 4-9 y el Oeste Santafesino. Estos campos lindan con los famosos y conocidos del Venado Tuerto y con estancias, como la de los Sres Ostendorp y Ca., Diego Alvear, heredero de Armstrong y otros.

Los campos que acaba de vender el Gobierno de la Provincia a 400,000$ estan mas distantes de la Capital que estos que ofrecemos en venta.

Ademas con la rapidez que se estan construyendo los Ferro Carriles y ramales en la Republica demuestran claramente que en un corto tiempo la poblacion va a estenderse extraordinariamente y entonces toda la propiedad rural tiene que triplicar en valor, de manera que cuando llegue a vencerse el ultimo plazo el comprador se encontrara con una propiedad valiosa.

La calidad del campo se garante igual al Venado Tuerto por lo tanto creemos inutil entrar en mayores descripciones sobre el terreno, sus pastos etc, ademas la persona que quiera ver y examinarlos puede toma la Galera que va del Pergamino al Hinojo ocurriendo por la pasage gratis al Sr D. Eduardo Casey Reconquista num. 80.

El campo sera dividido en lotes de ½ (media) legua teniendo el comprador el derecho de tomar cuatro leguas por el mismo precio.

Todos los lot-s seran vendidos sin reserva de ninguna clase al mas alto postor y el pago se hara una cuarta parte al contado y el resto en cuatro anualidades con el 7 o|o de interes. Los planos de estos campos estan para obtenerse del 20 del corriente Febrero en adelante ocurriendo a casa del Sr D. Eduardo Casey num. 80, o a nuestra casa Alsina 78.

"PLOUGHS" "PLOUGHS"

Messrs M. Forrester & Co.

Beg to announce to the Public that they have lately introduced into this country with great success the

Celebrated Two and Three Furrow Ploughs of Messrs. HOWARD ENGLAND

These WROUGHT IRON PLOUGHS fitted with breasts and shares of steel, have been extensively used in the Provinces and are destined to supersede the light and flimsy wood implements made by the Americans.

By means of a simple hand lever the onward movement of the animals raises the plough out of work at the ends, thus saving the driver the usual hard lifting connected with ploughing.

The two Furrow Plough is drawn by a pair of bullocks, thus doing double the work of a single plough and still with only one man.

These "Multiple" Ploughs are now almost universally employed in Australia and South Africa, and in recommending these implements Messrs. Forrester & Co feel confident that they are well adapted to the requirements of the Plate.

In order to procure these Ploughs orders should be sent in at once, or disappointment may be incurred.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague, Coughs, Colds, &c.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Crup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we need hardly question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholera: Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a culpable breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescribe and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
